The image shows a confirmation dialog box with a blue header bar containing a close button (X). The main content area is white and contains the following text: a red notice stating "Notice: Completing this action will cancel your online access immediately!"; a paragraph explaining that after entering a password and clicking "OK", access will be cancelled and the user will be directed to the logon screen; a question asking "Are you sure you want to cancel this logon? You will be required to register again to access your accounts."; a "Password" label followed by a yellow text input field; and two blue buttons labeled "OK" and "Cancel". A red arrow points to the right side of the password input field.

Your online access will be removed immediately. To access your accounts online again, you will have to complete the registration for OkTAP.
